Let's Get Back to the "Old Normal"

The 2021 Antique Tractor & Engine Show is upon us and Poor Farmer's RV is eager to give you a nice taste of the "Old Normal". For over fifty years we have been displaying all types and brands of antique tractors, steam engines, and other farm implements from the past. We will also have our flea market in full effect where you can find many different treasures and do-dads. The tractors will be rumbling down the track with sled in tow on June 5th and the kiddies will be pulling on Sunday June 6th at 1PM. Parking for camping and fleaing starts at 4PM on Monday May 31st (Memorial Day). As always parking is first come first served. Flea market spots are 30 foot wide and cost $40/flea spot, camping is $30/night.

Make your way to Fletcher for the Annual Spring Tractor & Engine Show/Flea Market. Poor Farmer's has been doing it right for fifty years, so why stop now. Food vendors will include: Oliver's Homemade Ice Cream, Tony's Subs, Chuck's Fair Food, Cumberland Kettle Corn and Badge's BBQ. Come out to our clean and spacious campground where you can enjoy some fresh air, good food, and some beautifully kept and restored antique tractors.

Site of the Month

#207 Mike & Jennifer Conley

The June Site of the Month has been awarded to Mike and Jennifer Conley at site #207. This site looks as if a professional landscaper put it together. Mike and Jennifer have accented their campsite with beautifully placed flowers and décor, yet not enough to make you think it was Cousin Eddie's house. A modest platform marries up to their Sabre Fifth Wheel.

FYI, it is pronounced sei-br... as in; Darth Vader cut the Jedi down with his Light Sabre. I have heard more than a few people pronounce it sabray. How many of you thought they were called "Light Savers" or "Life Savers"? Just asking. I would now like to apologize to the Conley's for throwing in all the Star Wars references. I would also like to apologize to Deb and Geno for not getting the sign out until now... I am such a slacker. Amy still put the credit on your account though.

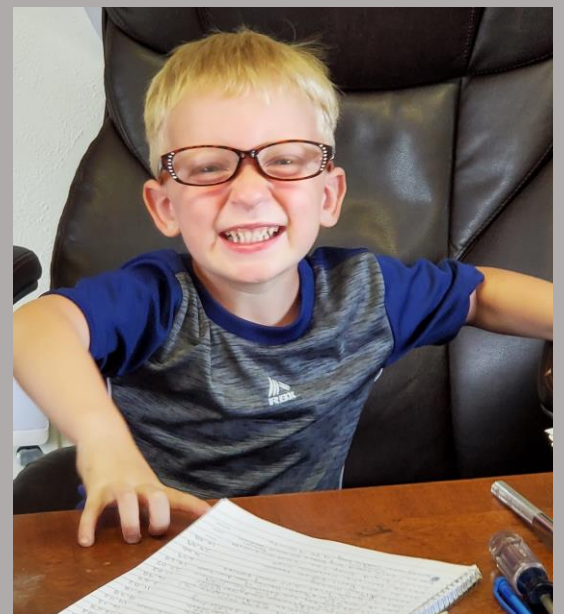

That's right, Site of the Month winners receive free dumps for a month or a credit to their account if they have paid for the yearly dump fee. Thanks to all for making Poor Farmer's one of the best looking campgrounds around.

Memphis Report

When Grandma stepped away from her desk, Memphis stepped in and got to work. "I hope those aren't important tax papers you're scribbling on young man!"

Memphis has been doing what he can to help around the campground. Last week he helped Uncle Mike a little on the backhoe and was eager to drive himself.

Which brings me to a very useful tip. If you are mixing children and golf carts at your campsite, it is always a good idea to remove the key from the cart. You can put the key in your pocket or another trick is to put the key on top of the roof. This may keep any of the littles from hopping in the cart for a joyride.

Fletcher Memorial Day Parade

Some Gave All

Memphis

Bring your car, truck, golf cart or motorcycle to Poor Farmer's Annual Cruise-In on June 18th. Harold Stover provides the music, and an entire slew of car fanatics provide the sights. There is no entry fees or admission to this event. We figured with all the money you folks have wrapped up in your rides, we would give you a break. If you don't have a vehicle to put in the show, please feel free to walk through and admire the hard work of others. There will be cars that are fully restored and classics that are all original.

At dusk, after the Cruise-In we will be showing Cheaper by the Dozen, a Steve Martin movie. Other notable stars are Hillary Duff, Bonnie Hunt, Ashton Kutcher and Piper Perabo. Cheaper by the Dozen gives you a look inside what could happen if a married couple goes completely crazy. How do you not stop at six? You will laugh out loud at this classic comedy which gives us all a great example of what not to do.

2021 Buckeye Woodcarver's Round-Up July 21-24 2021

The Buckeye Woodcarvers have carved their way into the history of Poor Farmer's. For ten years they have displayed their talents, educated others, and have brought an event to the campground that has become a staple on our schedule. Jim and Barb Foster host the round-up and have been doing so with great avail.

Some of the notable artists: John Guillozet, Bruce Henn, Garth Burgon, Judy & Bob Woodruff, John Housefield, Karen Brown, Jeff Postma, Wild Bill Cox, Lori Andrews, Ed Allen, John Sabina, Dwayne Gosnell, Allen Woods, Don Worley, Sandy Czajka and Jim Foster himself. Vendors will include: Belcher Carving Supply, Graphix-1-T-Shirts, Dunkle Knives.

Whether you are an avid carver or just interested to see what it's all about, The Buckeye Woodcarvers Round-Up is the event for you.

Campsite Numbers

If you have discovered a number plate in your front yard, it is because the number we placed on your electric pedestal is not visible from the campground road. Miami County officials have gone to great lengths to make sure each campsite has a number that can be read from the campground road.

If you have one of these ugly number plates in your yard and would like to replace it with one that is a bit more appealing to the eye, here is the Miami County Health Department Guidelines:

"Each site shall be marked so as to be readily identifiable and easily readable from the campground road. Each site shall be identified in numerals, letters or combination thereof, in sequential order. Of at least two inches in size and posted at least six inches above the ground."

If you would like an example of the "Government Approved" numbering of sites, you can look at sites #37 and #335. These campers did it right and didn't even know of any such regulation. Thank you all for complying with the Government mandated site number requirements. I will keep you posted on any further mandates or orders from our elected officials.
